

Advanced Energy Works for Ohio

Seth Parker joined Melink in 2015 to help change the world, one building at a time, by assisting Melink's growing number of clients who are joining the advanced energy revolution. Seth's primary responsibilities at Melink involve helping customers implement Solar PV and Geothermal HVAC systems at their commercial facilities to help them reach Net-Zero Energy. Before joining Melink, Seth specialized in conducting energy audits and implementing energy efficiency programs for large commercial facilities.

Seth holds a M.S. in Renewable and Clean Energy from the University of Dayton and a B.A. in Economics from Wittenberg University. Seth is an IGSHPA Accredited Installer and has also completed Certified Geo Designer (CGD) and Certified Energy Manager (CEM) training courses.

Melink Solar & Geo is a national design/build Solar PV and Geothermal HVAC provider, serving commercial building owners. Headquartered in Cincinnati, Melink strives to help clients reduce their energy consumption and produce clean, renewable energy, in order to achieve net-zero energy status, lower operating cost, and discover all the benefits of going green.
